

SchmartMoney Program Earns You Smart Money

The SchmartMoney program is like the airline mileage programs in that you earn SchmartDollars (points) with every purchase of SchmartBoard products and services. Where it is different is that you can turn the SchmartDollars in for merchandise but also real cash. There is no downside or obligation in signing up. If you buy any SchmartBoard product and aren't signed up, you are losing out big time.

HSC Electronic Supply Now Carries SchmartBoard

HSC in Santa Clara, CA and Rohnert Park, CA (near Santa Rosa) now carry SchmartBoard. "HSC Electronics was started in 1963 (as Halted Specialties

Co., thus the "HSC") as a dealership in surplus hydraulic, vacuum and environmental test equipment to the larger government contractors in California's Santa Clara Valley (before it was known as "Silicon Valley"!)

As years went by, Halted grew and changed along with Silicon Valley until we became one of the better-known dealers in surplus electronics in the area. We buy and sell nearly every type of electronic component, test equipment, computer peripheral and R & D supply, as well as the occasional piece of process and manufacturing equipment. We haven't totally turned our back on our history, however, as we still have some trade in vacuum gear and environmental chambers!"

This Month's Winners:

This Month's SchmartBoard Contest Winner: This month's winner of a $30 combo pack is Ken Gudan who works for Ricoh Innovations, Inc. in Menlo Park, CA. According to Ken: "Schmartboard allows fast prototyping of fine-pitch IC's that I'm unable to solder, and doing my own custom circuit boards is expensive and takes too much time. Thanks for speeding some quick prototyping along with Schmartboard."

This Month's SchmartMoney Winners: Each month three people will be awarded $10 in SchmartMoney. You have to be signed up to win though. This month's winners are:

Daniel Blakley of Brigham Young University in Provo UT, USA
Joe Margevicius of DeVry University In Palo Alto CA, USA
Akos Juhasz of GEOSERVICE Kft. In Miskolc, Hungary
