2nd Schmartie Award----Win $1000+

The Grand prize is $1000 and creation of a SchmartModule based on the winning circuit design. SchmartBoard will market the SchmartModule worldwide and the winner will also receive a 10 percent commission to be paid quarterly. The winner will receive worldwide notoriety, as his or her name will be silk-screened on the product as the SchmartDeveloper.

Second prize is a DSO8502 500Mhz Digital Oscilloscope from Link Instruments and third prize is a Weller WD1002 Soldering Station from Cooper Tools. Three honorable mentions will receive a Parallax Boe-Bot. All entrants who post a schematic will receive a SchmartBoard t-shirt and free SchmartBoards to build their circuit. Winners will be announced in January 2008.

SchmartBoard Sponsored Group Wins First Place

BUILD, is a non-profit organization that teaches high school students to be entrepreneurs over a four year period. Freshman learn everything from writing a business plan, financials, executive summary to creating the Power Point presentation and presenting it to judges and answering questions. Judges are made up of venture capitalists and business leaders. In the sophomore year, they are seeded with $1000 to follow up on the business plan and run their business. Mentors from the business community are involved in helping the students learn and prepare for competitions. SchmartBoard mentors a team named Young-Hype with Yahoo and Silicon Valley Bank, who will manufacture and sell hand painted t-shirts. At the recent 2007 final competition held at Stanford University, Young-Hype took first place. SchmartBoard congratulates Young-Hype and looks forward to working with them all the way into college.
