SchmartBoard Nominated for "World Technology Award"

SchmartBoard has been nominated by the World Technology Network in the IT Hardware category. The World Technology Awards are presented by the World Technology Network, in association with the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE), Dow Chemical, TIME magazine and CNN, among others. The central events in the WTN calendar include the annual World Technology Summit and World Technology Awards – the culmination of a global judging program through which new members are nominated and selected and by which the network grows and is refreshed. SchmartBoard will find out if we have won on November 3rd at the awards dinner at San Francisco's City Hall....Wish Us Luck!!
