Olympic Soldering

We were not successful in getting surface mount component soldering into the 2006 Winter Olympics due to an unfair advantage with the SchmartBoard|ez. From what we heard they told Professor Schmart that it would be like allowing the olympic skiers to use a snow mobile. There is always the summer 2008 games.

SchmartBoard Raises Money for Hurricane Katrina

SchmartBoard had committed to give 3% of our online sales from September 2005 through the end of the year to Americares for the purpose of helping those affected by Hurricane Katrina. The money has been sent off and thanks to the successful launch of the SchmartBoard|ez that coincided with the program, we were able to give much more than earlier in the year when we helped the Tsunami victims. Thank you to our customers for allowing us to do so.

SchmartBoard|ez in The Tech Museum of Innovation

The SchmartBoard|ez will be demonstrated in The Tech Museum of Innovation in San Jose CA starting February 17th through June 2006. As one of the 2005/2006 Inny Award Winners, SchmartBoard's technology was chosen as one of the best at the Fall 2005 Demo show in which the technology was launched in September 2005. Those who come to visit will be able to see the technology demonstrated, and leave with a limited edition SchmartBoard key ring made in which a chip is hand soldered, using the "ez" technology. Some SchmartBoard users have also made circuits to display for this museum exhibit.
