New Contest, Win One of Three Apple iPads

We already have entries from around the world, we are waiting for yours! The 2010 Schmartboard MCU Challenge is effectively 3 contests in one. We have separate challenges for creating circuits using the SchmartBoard 710-0004-01 board for MicroChip 8 Bit PIC, 710-0005-01 for Parallax Propeller and 710-0006-01 for Texas Instruments MSP430, Piccolo and Stellaris Cortex M3. Entrants can enter 1 or more segment and/or multiple times for each segment. Winners from each segment win an Apple iPad. Great second, third and special mention prizes are also given in each segment of the contest. The co-sponsors are MicroChip, Parallax, Texas Instruments, Elenco, Jameco Electronics, the Robot Shop, Nuts & Volts and Servo Magazines.

We Need Your Input – Is it worth a t-shirt?

SchmartBoard Strategic Partners

SchmartBoard sells quite a few headers and jumpers. The reason is that our price is very low because we offer these to make our boards work better, not as a big profit item. We will soon add right angle headers as they have also been requested. What other accessory should we source to make our boards better? If we use your input, we will send you a SchmartBoard t-shirt. To respond to this request, please post in our forum.
