

Free Breadboards for Everyone!

During the month of August SchmartBoard will give a breadboard away with every 10 Pack of SchmartBoard|ez products bought on our website. If the part Number begins with "912" or "914", the 10 pack is eligible for this promotion.

The offer is good while supplies last.

New SchmartBoard Distributor in Singapore

We finally have a local distributor to service our friends in Singapore and the surrounding area. According to them: "We at ROBOT R US believe that robots will be the next big technological leap after the creation of the personal computer. With this belief in mind, we want to provide a wide range of robotic education and products to schools and robot-centric individuals to prepare for this exciting future."

Coming Soon-SchmartBoard Cypress PSOC Board

Cypress PSOC users, ...time to get excited. SchmartBoard is working on another MCU development board. This time we will support the PSOC 3 and 5 families with just one low cost board! Like with our boards for Microchip and Texas Instruments, the same board will support many different MCUs because you solder the supported IC of your choice, using our "ez" solder technology. This board can work as a stand-alone board or in a DIP format for use with breadboards. More details will be released soon for what should be a September release.
